DETAILED ACTION

1. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

2. Claim 8 recites the limitation "the imprint", "the pick-up felt", " the upper felt" and "the wet press" in the claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claim.

3. Claims 11 –13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 11 is a claim depending from a process claim (claim 8), it is a substantial duplicate of the cloth limitations already recited in claim 8. It is not clear what is intended to be claimed.

4. Claims 8, 1-13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Taylor (361,849) with or without Britt (2,890,540).

Taylor teaches impressing a fabric pattern on wet pulp sheet using a fabric attached to a belt passing through the nip of the wet press,(Figure 2). To the extent that the claims are understood, Figure 5 and 6 of Taylor obviously shows the the claimed fabric pattern. If a "damask" fabric pattern is intended, it would have been obvious since Britt teaches that it is a desirable fabric pattern for paper.

5. Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Britt (2,890,540).

Irrespective of the method by which the paper was made, the final paper product is a paper with a fabric embossed pattern and as such is anticipated by Britt or at the least Britt obviously shows the claimed product.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
